MACK HUFFMAN PASSES OVER RIVER

OLDEST NATIVE BORN CITIZEN OF STANFORD DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

In the death of Mr. Mack Huffman which occurred on Sunday afternoon last, Stanford loses one of its most esteemed and at the time its oldest native living citizen, he having been born in this city 74 years ago in August, 1836. He was the oldest son of the late Mr. A. C. Huffman, for many years the leading physician of this community and also a surgeon in the Federal army, who moved to Kentucky in about 1870, where he lived several years since.

Most of Mr. Huffman's many years were spent in this community. His occupation during his early manhood was that of a building contractor and his services in such were always in demand in this as well as the adjoining counties.

About 25 years ago he was severely injured by a fall from a building in the cause of erection, from the effects of which he never fully recovered. After that he engaged in the furniture business a considerable length of time, but retired many years ago, after accumulating a competency. He had held for a long time the position of president of the cemetery company and took great pride and interest in adorning and beautifying its burying grounds.

Since young manhood he has been a consistent member of the Presbyterian church and has long filled the office of deacon. He was the very soul of honor and universally popular, his friends equalling the number of his acquaintances. He was one of those delightful characters who never grew old and to the day of his death was possessed of the buoyancy and fun of youth.

Mr. Huffman was never married. He is survived by one brother, Mr. H. E. Huffman, of Montana, and a sister, Mrs. B. L. Cochran, of Kentucky.

The vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Huffman is one which in many respects will be hard to fill. After brief services at the grave this afternoon by Rev. A. S. Moffett, of Lebanon, former pastor of the Presbyterian church here, the remains of this good man were laid to final rest in the old cemetery.

After brief services at the grave this afternoon by Rev. A. S. Moffett, of Lebanon, former pastor of the Presbyterian church here, the remains of this good man were laid to final rest in the old cemetery.

The pall bearers were: Mr. A. S. Moffett, H. E. Huffman, S. B. Elmore, E. L. Reinhardt, W. M. Bright, H. C. Harris, E. T. Pence and J. W. McLean.

William Taylor, a tenant on the farm of John Steinhagen, two miles southeast of here, while preparing to go to work, had a very amusing experience. All the household goods were put in the wagon, after which the chickens were to be rounded up. One was old rooster not liking the proposed change of locality and probably apprehensive of the approaching election, darted into a dense copse, availed himself of the sheltering refuge, afforded by a ground hog's den. Moving was delayed, a minkot procured and Mr. Taylor proceeded to recover his property, which was accomplished after hard work.

A D. Stephens sold some hay to W. H. Brown at 60 cents.

W. F. Ballard who was severely hurt by a house falling on him, is much worse.

Mrs. Wm Sprinkles, of Rowland, spent a week with her daughter, Mrs. L. F. Thompson. Mrs. Samuel Humphrey, of Garrard was visiting Mrs. Holtzclaw and Mrs. Edmonson. Mrs. W. H. Brown was visiting Mrs. J. M. Cross.

Mrs. Lizette Holtzclaw and Mrs. Susan Edmonson visited Mrs. John Sebastian in Garrard. J. T. Roberts of Oakdale, Tenn., visited Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Shaw, Mrs. J. M. Pettus, of Stanford was visiting her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Pettus. James L. Little son of J. R. Hixley is ill of heart trouble. Oscar Holtzclaw and sister, Miss Bessie, of Walnut Flint, visited Miss Maude McAllister. Miss Hattie Brown of Garrard has returned from a protracted visit at Mayfield, Mo. Miss Katherine Melvin has returned from a visit to Miss Amy Harris at Richmond. Miss Hattie Brown and Russell Brown, of Stanford, visited Miss Katherine Melvin. Miss Nora Smith is with friends in Rockcastle. Little Miss Sara Larue Traylor and little friend, Miss Maggie Carpenter were visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. P. White. Mr. J. T. Wells and wife attended church here last Sunday.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church continues with increasing interest shown. Rev. T. H. Thornton is doing some fine preaching and the singing conducted by Prof. J. D. Thompson is fine and with music and Miss Emma Holtzclaw as organist is a feature of the service much complimented by all in attendance. Rev. Thornton's subject Sunday morning was "God's Witness," and a special sermon in the afternoon to men, subject, "What a Man Sows That Shall He Also Reap." "Fortune Telling," subject of sermon Monday evening.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by Penny's Drug Store.

In Memoriam

Oct. 8, 1878. Oct. 8, 1910.
In memory of my husband John Traylor, died April, 13th, 1910.

So often we've wondered, dear loved one,
Which one first would pass through the gate.
We have greeted this day each year with delight,
And so often been thankful that fate
Had been kind to us, left us to struggle.
Together, life's conflicts to meet;
We were happy to know we were loving and true,
And 'tis yet a glad memory, sad, sweet!

To think of the years that have vanished,
They were long, but so short, now they seem;
There's naught left to me but the God-send of tears,
And to think and remember and to dream!
To know in pleasure, in sorrow's dark night,
To live with you life's journey through.
To others so noble, so honest, upright
To me always tender and true.

It is rhapsody still to remember
You were mine—so rebellious I've been,
Since the grave hid your face and your form from my view,
Yet I'll see you and know you again.
The brightest of all earthly blessings
Was to know, that through all, you were true;
And the crown of all heavenly glory
Will be dwelling for ever with you.

"He still my end heart, cease rephrasing,
God's justice is glorious and true,
The clouds hide the sun, but 'tis shining.
And its halo speaks always of you.
There's a haven of rest for the weary,
oppressed;
Together we'll be on that shore,
No heaven I'd share if you were not there.
To live saved, redeemed evermore.

TOBACCO MEN WANT MORE RAIN

WEED NOT YET READY FOR MARKET—KINCAID'S NEW WAREHOUSE DONE.

Tobacco growers are anxiously praying for more rain for their barns are filled to bursting with the brown weed and until a rainy spell it cannot be gotten ready for the market. A. E. Kincaid the tobacco buyer, is ready to take possession of the splendid new warehouse which John S. Houghman has just built for him back of the mill and next to the railroad, but he says that he can do nothing until there is more wet weather and tobacco get ready for him to buy. A gang of men are now at work, building a slide track to go right by the warehouse so that the hogheads may be loaded onto freight cars for shipment away right at the doors. The house is equipped for grading and will be a big thing for Stanford when it gets actively under way. It is of solid concrete, with a tin roof and is practically fireproof.

One wagon load of tobacco came to the warehouse Saturday. In an effort to get some "body" into the weed, the owner had thrown water on it, and damaged it so that it would turn black in the hoghead in no time.

Mr. Kincaid said that he had no use for tobacco that had been so treated, but only crops which have naturally absorbed the moisture can be used, for throwing water on them ruins them.

No estimate can be had yet as to what price Mr. Kincaid or other buyers will pay for tobacco. It was stated before the pool failed that the prices would be high whether the tobacco was brought before the market at from 10 to 15 cents, and the growers generally hope to obtain that price. There is much anxiety for the buying to begin, as many of the farmers have their year's work tied up in tobacco crops.

Run Over By Buggy

REV. P. R. NOEL BADLY INJURED AT HALL'S GAP.

Rev. P. R. Noel was the victim of a very painful, though lucky, not a serious accident last week as a result of which he was laid up for several days. While driving with Rev. J. H. Jones, the new pastor of the Baptist church in the country, they stopped on top of Hall's Gap and Rev. Jones got out of the buggy to see the magnificent view down in the valley from the top of the Gap. Rev. Noel stood up in the buggy to point to Stanford, when the horse started suddenly throwing the aged divine out of the vehicle and under the wheels, which passed over his body, across his stomach. Rev. Jones rescued him immediately and brought him to town, where his injuries were attended by physicians, but pronounced not necessarily dangerous.

Howard Camnitz

WILL NOT BE WITH PITTSBURG BALL CLUB NEXT SEASON.

Howard Camnitz, Hustonville's crack pitcher, will not be with the Pittsburgh National League next season, according to dispatches from there. It is expected that he will be sold or traded to some other club as the result of his differences with President Dreyfuss over the salary question. Camnitz played a very prominent part in winning the pennant for Pittsburgh season before last and when he is right there is none better, so that it is expected many of the clubs will be anxious to secure him. A dispatch from Pittsburgh tells of an interview with Dreyfuss on the subject as follows:

"Will Camnitz be with the team next season?" Dreyfuss was asked. "He will not," came the reply. "Howard has been given his chance and has failed to take advantage of the opportunities which presented themselves. We tried to deal fairly with him, but for some reason or other we couldn't get along. He will be disposed of, and I believe this will please him. I know that he isn't anxious to play with us again, and we will have in the future none but players who are satisfied and who are willing to live up to the club discipline."

"We have spent $29,500 this year for new players. Some of them look very good, and it may be that they will fill any holes that might be made. Steele and Perry give promise of being successful pitchers; if they are Camnitz will not be missed so much. It may be, too, that we will use others who are good."

Mr. Sam C. Hardin a prominent attorney of London, Ky., has formed a law partnership with Mr. J. C. Jones, of Pineville, and the firm will be Hardin & Jones, commencing Dec. 1. Mr. Hardin will move his family to Pineville as soon as practicable and they will practice law. The new law firm of Hardin & Jones will be a strong one in every respect and we prophesy that they will merit and receive the confidence of the community.—Pineville Sun.

POWERS WAS GUILTY, SAYS LONDON ECHO

REPUBLICAN PAPER DECLARES HE SHOULD BE KEPT OUT OF CONGRESS FOR DECENCY'S SAKE.

The Mountain Echo published at London by L. H. McIngrue edited by J. W. Stevenson and one of the leading republican papers in the mountain section of the state, publishes a sensational editorial in its issue of Thursday attacking Caleb Powers and protesting against his taking the seat in the 62nd Congress on the grounds that he has never been cleared of the charge of complicity in the assassination of Governor William Goebel.

The Echo supported Don C. Edwards in his race against Powers, but after Powers was nominated the paper supported him. In a half hearted way, however, the editorial says in part: "Whatever may be said in the future of the eleven district; whatever of continuity and reproach may be heaped upon his fair name the Echo's skirts are clear, and it none of all the papers in the district can boast of the proud distinction of having made a fight for honor, for decency, for morality in social and political affairs, for justice at home and abroad during the past year. When Caleb Powers announced for office the Echo took up the fight against him and used the weapons which it thought it best to awaken the people to the danger of sending this man to Congress. Without again traversing the ground, we may say that our admissions were not needed, and Powers was nominated by a great majority."

Being a consistent supporter of Republican faith and principles, we at once placed his name at the head of the column as the Republican nominee. But our heart was not in the work of supporting Caleb Powers. So far as he knows the editor of the Echo has never condoned the commission of a crime, and hopes he never shall, being possessed of at least ordinary intelligence, and possessing a conscience we could not follow the various trails of this man without feeling morally certain of his guilt. We believe that he was guilty of conspiracy in the foulest, most damnable, most heinous, most diabolical crime that ever darkened Kentucky's history and therefore if we understand the letter of the law, guilty of murder, and worthy to be executed for the commission of the dastardly crime.

The evidences of guilt were too strong. Four trials were had in three of which the juries were unanimous in their verdict of guilty in the fourth trial ten voted yes as to the guilt of the accused. It is inconceivable to believe that forty-six men, no matter how partisan in their views, would violate their oaths to give the accused a fair and impartial trial according to the law and the evidence, and perjure themselves into eternally rendering a verdict not in accord with the evidence. In all the state we do not think they could be found who would do this horrible thing, and we do not believe that anyone else can think that such would be the case. We have too much faith in the human race and in the honor and integrity of Kentuckians to ever believe such rot.

The Echo to its everlasting shame be it said, declared that Powers was greatly maligned and should be tried while at the same time we believed that he was guilty. Our only excuse for doing this is that we are fighting for the party, and not for the criminal. It was a sad day for the party when Caleb Powers was placed upon the State ticket; it was a sad day for Senator Goebel, and it was a sad day for this beloved district, wherein reside the best people that the world affords and who do not deserve the reproach placed upon them.

Caleb Powers has been elected to represent this proud district in Congress, but by a majority so small that it requires no stretch of the imagination to declare unequivocally that the most enlightened people in the district do not approve of the verdict of the polls on Tuesday.

We suppose Powers will go to Congress and yet he should not, a man who has been three times convicted of a dastardly crime and never acquitted therefore, is not fit to represent the splendid citizenship of the mountains in any capacity. The little innocent children should not have this stigma placed upon them; they should not be made to look back when they have reached maturity and be made to blush for having such a representative. The young men, bright intelligent and ambitious, should not have this millstone placed about their necks, to hold them back in the onward march to success in business and in social affairs of the community; the young and virtuous womanhood of the district should not be crushed by their sisters in other sections of the state for living in a district represented by a man who had been thrice convicted of conspiracy in the murder of a fellow mortal.

We do not know what action the new congress will take in the matter of seating Powers. For the good of the district, for the good of the state for the good of the nation and for the good of the splendid citizens who call the mountains their home and we rightfully believe it to be the garden spot of the earth, we think and hope, that high minded body of lawmakers, when the assembly in Washington on March 4th next, will refuse to seat him. Then, and then only will the awful stigma be removed from our homes and firesides. But whatever the ultimate action taken, the Echo's skirts are clear. We were not for Powers in the campaign preceding the primary, we were not strongly for him in the campaign preceding the primary, and we are not for him after the final election. We speak feelingly in regard to this matter, the more so because we feel and are mortally certain that we are right in the conclusions arrived at.

The protracted meeting that has been in session at the Christian church has been postponed for a few days. The pastor, Rev. W. S. Montgomery was called to attend the funeral of his sister, Miss Etta Montgomery.

The singing school taught by Prof. Catbelle was closed last Wednesday night. They will continue to meet every Saturday night. Mr. C. K. McClure was appointed as leader. The singing school is enjoyed by all who attend and is also very beneficial.

Miss Mabel McClure who has been attending school in Richmond for the past few months is at home for a few days.

Mr. Jackson Garrison died Thursday morning Nov. 10th. Mr. Garrison was 92 years old. He came from Virginia in 1887, he has been a resident of Moreland for 23 years. He leaves several children. He was buried Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Huntington cemetery after funeral services at the Union church by his pastor Rev. Palmeter.

Miss Dora Strunk of Stanford, visited Mr. B. B. King and family last Thursday.

W. B. King, postmaster at Pineville, died last Saturday morning of pneumonia. No death has occurred in this community that has caused more universal sorrow than that of Mr. King. The Pineville Sun says of his death:

His death was sudden and altogether unexpected. Some two weeks ago he attended the burial of Mrs. Patton at Four Mile where he contracted cold, which later developed into pneumonia, while his condition was serious no alarm was felt by his family and friends until Thursday afternoon before his death, when he suffered a relapse and gradually grew worse until death relieved him of his suffering.

William Benjamin King was born in Lincoln county, June 18, 1865, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. King, who with three brothers and seven sisters survive. Mr. King was the oldest child. After leaving Lincoln county he located at Flat Rock where he resided for several years, while engaged in the stove business. In 1896 he was united in marriage with Miss Dora Hingham, daughter of Capt. William Hingham, of this city. After his marriage, Mr. King located at Pineville, where he resided until his death. He was engaged in many business enterprises all of which were successful. In politics Mr. King was an ardent republican and has been for many years active in that party's affairs in this section. In 1906 the death of Mr. John Green caused a vacancy in the postmastership of this city and Mr. King was appointed to that position, which he held until his death, he being reappointed a few months ago for another four years. His administration of this office was one of satisfaction to the public successful business. Mr. King had accumulated considerable of this world's goods. He had just a short time ago contemplated the erection of one of the most convenient houses in Pineville and had just begun to enjoy the fruits of his many years hard labor when death, that grim destroyer, whose summons we must all obey, called and his career was ended. The funeral services were conducted at the Christian church of which he was a member, by Rev. Robertson, the pastor, the funeral cortege was escorted to the Odd Fellows' cemetery by the Masons of the city, where the impressive services of that order were gone through with at the grave. The many floral offerings were beautiful and in a manner attested the high esteem in which the deceased was held by his legion of friends.

In the death of Mr. King Pineville loses one of her most enterprising and progressive citizens. He was even ready with his influence and money to assist in all things that would benefit the city. Everyone who knew him was his friend and the entire community mourns with his wife and other relatives in their sad bereavement.

NEW DEPOT SEEMS CERTAIN FOR CITY

PROMINENT L. & N. OFFICIALS
COME HERE AND TALK OF
PLANS FOR BUILDING.

That Stanford is almost sure to get a new depot, and construction work will probably start in the spring was the opinion that a number of L. & N. officials expressed while here on an inspection tour late last Friday afternoon. Among them were General Superintendent Snyder, Master of Trains Lilley, Superintendent of Bridges and Buildings Ingram and General Foreman Cox. They spent some time going over the old structure which passes for a depot now and tentatively decided where the new building should be placed. It was decided to build it just west of the present depot, taking in the hollow between Houghman's spur track and the main tracks, and extending almost the whole length of the railroad a lot there. Three large waiting rooms, one for men, one for women and one for colored people, with ample baggage accommodations and an enlarged ticket office were discussed, and it is understood that plans for a building to suit the site will be drawn at once by the railroad architects and draughtsmen.

Almost everyone who talked with the officials was much encouraged by what they said with respect to a new depot for Stanford. They seemed to recognize that the present building is totally inadequate to handle the large amount of business which is transacted from this point now, and desire to remedy the situation as soon as possible.

Stock Law Wins

CARRIES IN WAYNESBURG BY BIG MAJORITY.

The voters of Wayneburg precinct No. 1 went on record as favoring the stock law at the special election on this subject held last Tuesday. There was a majority of 76 in favor of keeping cattle etc. off the streets.

In King's Mountain the proposition to vote an additional tax for another school building was defeated by a majority of 37 votes. As the present building has proven so small for the increasing number of school children, it is not known just what will be done to remedy the situation.

Crab Orchard.

We met John Salter, Mr. W. R. Hansford's Confederate veteran, of whom he wrote so feelingly a few days since, who came out to vote said, "elections don't seem like elections without sweet cakes and elder."

Mr. Eph James, living near Crab Orchard, is very ill. His grandson, John Harris is convalescent. A little girl of Mrs. Abe Adams is dangerously ill. Dr. Harmon, of Crab Orchard in attendance.

T. L. Adams, of the Dripping Springs section while cutting wood cut a thumb nearly off.

Mrs. Martha Crider, wife of William Crider, aged about 60, died last week of a complication of diseases, at her home near Lee Lick. She was a good Christian lady strict member of the church of Christ. After a burial service by Rev. David Tientry, her remains were laid to rest at old Bethel church.

One voter came out of the booth at the polls last week and wanted a pair of glasses as the smoke from the car cabin had filled his eyes.

Rev. Donahoo will preach the fourth Sunday, instead of the third Sunday at the Crab Orchard Christian church this month. Union services will be held at the Christian church Thanksgiving evening, which will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Anderson, who recently held a successful meeting there.

BRIGHT HAYS IN ACCIDENT

Mr. Henry Bright Hays the popular fireman, who is associated with Mr. Bone Carter, had a thrilling experience near town on the Stanfordpike Wednesday night says the Danville Advertiser. He had been to Danville and was on his way home. Near the Walker farm as he was turning a curve an unknown driver came around at lightning speed. The vehicle of the stranger crashed into the one occupied by Mr. Hays, but appeared not to have been damaged for the driver continued on his way at high speed. Hays was thrown out on the side and his buggy smashed up. He was driving a gentle horse, however and the animal refused to run. Mr. Hays managed to patch up the vehicle and get home.

The Lexington Herald says that we were mistaken in our assertion that the Danville Advocate denounced the treachery of Lillard. We think not. If we are not mistaken, the Advocate, possibly not editorially, but in its news columns, sided vigorously with the righteous indignation of the democrats of Boyle at his course, and it seems to us that one of the present editors of the Advocate was present and took a leading part in an indignation meeting held in the courthouse. But the matter can be easily settled. Let's hear what the Advocate itself has to say on the subject and why it now puts on the soft pedal when Lillard is mentioned.

CAN'T BEAT STANFORD TEAM

In the game Saturday at Richmond, against the Normal school eleven, the local boys were thoroughly tested and their victory of 16 to 0 was the best of the season. The E. K. S. N. S. team averaged more than 150 pounds to the man, yet the Stanford boys, with 136 pounds average, played rings around them. The game was a superior one. Clean sport was manifested. Touchdowns were made by Penny, Coleman and McCarty. Simmons, Combs and Parks were the star players for Richmond.

The Stanford team deserves especial credit in that they have not lined up under their goal this season. Let some high school team that wants high honors try them, is the challenge of the manager.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and restoring nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Mr and Mrs. James H. Baughman, leave Tuesday for Atlanta, where they will make their home this winter and where Mr. Baughman will engage them are 25 selected Texas that range in price, from $400 to $750 and in weight from 2,000 to 3,200 pounds, in the lot are the champion show mare

THE PLUMBING THANKSGIVING

should be a celebration of work well done and many people pleased. That is how we intend to celebrate. That we shall not be completely happy until we know that your plumbing is all right. But have us take a look at it and if anything is needed let us do the work so it will be off your mind and ours. Then we can both be truly thankful.
